Promising spring blessings to you!

In alignment with the creative, birthing energy of spring, I am joyfully responding to the soulful call to deepen my commitment to being of service to my fellow human beings. One facet of supporting my efforts involves leaving my home office and blossoming into a healing business space that is part of a vibrant, conscientious community in Santa Fe. My new space will allow me to continue being of service with flower essences through my private practice while also creating room for classes, group trainings, and support groups, in addition to providing space to be a distributor of FES and Healing Herbs flower essences for the public. I will also be expanding my flower essence support to hospice communities. I invite and am ready to receive your support. Your generosity will make a difference in the following ways:

- ♥ Your gift of $100 will help cover transportation costs to offer flower essences to the hospice community.
- ♥ Your gift of $300 will help cover costs to educate hospice patients, loved ones and caregivers about flower essences.
- ♥ Your gift of $500 will help cover costs for educational materials and flower essences to the hospice community.
- ♥ Your gift of $1,000 will sponsor caregivers of hospice patients in receiving flower essence support.
- ♥ Your gift of $5,000 will sponsor 50 hours over six months of direct flower essence support to hospice patients.
- ♥ Your gift of $10,000 will sponsor 100 hours over 12 months of flower essence consultations to the hospice community.
- ♥ Your gift of $15,000 will sponsor a pilot test study on the effects of flower essences in hospice.

"Every day I would give my mom her flower essence blend. She would open her mouth like a little bird drinking the purest of nectar from the beautiful vibrations of natural flowers. I felt as if I was giving her Communion. I would ask her how the blend made her feel. She told me, "It makes me feel happy." Mom made a peaceful, beautiful transition into death. I am confident that the flower essence blend, prepared by Jane Ellen, was one of the components of that smooth transition for both of us. I was also peaceful because of the blend that had been prepared for me." – Michelle

Your heartfelt gift will nurture the seeds of compassion and loving kindness within this precious world, while together we uphold our awareness of our interconnectedness as divine beings on this beautiful earth. All donors will be recognized on a gratitude panel in my new healing business space.

I warmly invite you to share this letter with those whose hearts will resonate with this opportunity to be of support.

It remains an ever deepening honor to serve humanity through my offerings with the flower essences, and I bow in love and appreciation for your generous contribution, to the blessed flower essences, and to all those who bless my life.

With love and gratitude,

Jane Ellen

From a recent donor:

"Beautiful Jane, you gave me a very special gift on Saturday. The gift was in your willingness to "receive"....the gift was in not blocking the divine flow of giving and receiving. You took a risk and put yourself out there with the willingness to be open and trust. The flood gates of support are open - YES!" Love and Gratitude, Julie Gifts may be made with a check or via the "Make a Donation" button on the "Contact Jane" link of my website.
